PASSAGE

Nehru’s was a many sided personality. He enjoyed reading and writing books as much as he enjoyed fighting political and social evils or resisting tyranny. In him, the scientist and the humanist were held in perfect balance. While he kept looking at special problems from a scientific standpoint, he never forgot that we should nourish the total man. As a scientist, he refused to believe in a benevolent power interested in men’s affairs; but, as a self – proclaimed non-believer he loved affirming his faith in life and the beauty of nature. Children he adored, unlike words worth, he did not see them trailing clouds of glory from their recent sojourn in heaven. He saw them as blossoms of promise and renewal personality means

Whales are the largest animals in the sea. Compared to a whale, an elephant is a tiny creature. If you put an elephant by the side of a whale, it would look like a cat but for its shape. Whales are huge and heavy giants. The largest whale, the blue whale, grows about a hundred feet long. Some of them weigh more than a hundred and twenty tons, while an elephant weighs about seven tons. A whale eats two to three tons of food at a single meal.

Whales eat so many tons of food at each meal, you may wonder how there is any food left in the sea for us to catch. But the oceans are vast and not all whales eat so much fish. The blue whale lives wholly on plankton. A stretch of plankton, as you know is spread over miles and miles of sea-water.

When my wife, daughter and I were traveling in a rented car through Nottingham, England, on our way to a cousin's home in the northern suburbs, I became thoroughly confused by the maze of circular and one-way streets. Finally, we spotted a policeman and pulled up to ask directions. We were surprised when he re-moved his tall helmet, opened the back door and slid in beside our daughter. "It'll be much easier to show you", he explained.

Off we went through a series of left and right turns, traffic lights and even a short jaunt up a one-way lane the wrong way. Twenty minutes later we arrived at a main intersection. "Now you'll be all right", announced our guide. "Just turn here, stay on the road for eight or nine kilometers, and you're there". With that, he opened the door, got out, replaced his helmet and strode briskly off.
